NEWCASTLE, NSW

Building is in the McCloy blood.

Francis McCloy was a builder who “reared 11 kids, survived the Depression, never took a cent on the dole, ran his own chooks and pigs and fished Lake Munmorah”.

In 1961, one of Francis’ sons, Don, started a Belmont-based construction company specialising in commercial buildings, schools and hotels. Don’s son, Jeff, who is now the Chairman of McCloy Group, joined his father in the mid-seventies, taking over the reins in the mid-eighties after ten years working together.

One of McCloy’s early successes was the construction of the $150 million John Hunter Hospital, the region’s largest, delivered a year ahead of schedule.

In the 1990s, the McCloy Group diversified considerably, reflecting Jeff’s innovative approach and business acumen.

Today the McCloy Group’s interests include:

- Creating outstanding masterplanned residential communities;
- Owning and redeveloping commercial office space;
- Owning, developing and operating state-of-the-art retirement living villages.

Clarence Town Road, Woodville | mccloygroup.com.au/residential/future-projects/

The Wallalong development is proposed to include a mix of environmental, rural, residential, commercial, education, and recreation opportunities such as parks, playgrounds and playing fields. Located in the Port Stephen's Local Government Area it is part of a broader development in the region. The Wallalong Urban Release Area is set on 630 hectares and has the opportunity to accommodate approximately 3500 new homesites, which would alleviate significant pressure on land supply in the Lower Hunter. Over the life of the development the local amenity would be managed through appropriate planning patterns and best practice design principles.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

At McCloy Group, we are proud of our long association with various charitable organisations in the Hunter region. As Newcastle has grown, so have we, sharing our humble beginnings with many of the people and organisations we have worked with.

We believe it is important to give back to the community that supports us.

McCloy Group Chairman, Jeff McCloy has shown strong continued support for various charities and organisations both locally, nationally and internationally. 2017 saw an expansion on his involvement with the University of Newcastle as the McCloy Group entered into a 3-year sponsorship program with the UON Rugby Union club. The McCloy Group are also key sponsors of local Belmont team, Lakes United. In 2016, Jeff was a primary donor of the Children's Cancer Institute, when he donated land at Billy's Lookout to the Build for a Cure project. This was a major fundraising initiative in which a house was built from the ground up in 21 days. Every aspect of the land and home was donated and each dollar was put towards lifesaving research for children with cancer. The final bid sold at $662,000, in total over $700,000 was raised for the Children's Cancer Institute. We're excited to be a part of this project again in 2018, at The Bower, Medowie.

In 2015, Jeff kick started the Salvation Army's Vanuatu Disaster Appeal with a $1 million donation to help repair the devastation caused to the nearby island nation by Cyclone Pam. In 2011, he also donated $1 million to the Salvation Army's Red Shield Appeal.

In 2009, Jeff was one of five graduates from University of Newcastle honoured by their peers with a prestigious alumni award for their inspiring achievements. Jeff was awarded the inaugural Alumni Award for Leadership (Regional) for his contribution to property development and infrastructure in the Hunter region. A significant supporter of research at the University, Jeff was the first Chair of the University of Newcastle Foundation. He was pivotal in establishing the University Foundation Scholarship scheme and active in developing sporting partnerships and facilities for the University. He has held a number of community positions including committee member of the Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal (Hunter), Patron of the

Redhead Surf Life Saving Club and member of the Newcastle Knights Player Retention Committee.

In the same year, Jeff was presented with the City of Newcastle medal in honour of distinguished service to Newcastle and its citizens. Jeff was recognised as an outspoken advocate for bringing development and prosperity to the city. His generous monetary donations, and guidance and support of charities, education and welfare groups, medical research, sports teams and clubs were recognised.

Jeff also received the honour of Hunter Business Person of the Year in 2008 for his contribution to business in the Hunter region.

Other organisations McCloy Group has supported include the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) at John Hunter Hospital, Autism Spectrum Australia, Oz Harvest, National Breast Cancer Foundation, Immune Deficiencies Foundation of Australia, MS Australia and the Royal Institute for Deaf and Blind Children and Redhead Surf Life Savers. McCloy Group also made a donation to the Newcastle Art Gallery Foundation for the Public Art Partnerships program.

At a grassroots level, in the communities in which our residential communities are based, we are involved in many local clubs and groups from schools to sporting clubs and other local fundraisers.
